

. . . . about Donna and the company

Donna Speller Turner is the founder of a dynamic management consulting company specializing in designing creative strategies for high performance and sustained growth for her clients. She is a former career Federal employee who enjoyed assignments in Alaska, Hawaii, the Northeast, and the South. An enthusiastic entrepreneur, Donna believes in strong community involvement, and serves on the board of several woman-focused non-profit organizations. Her current client roster includes an engineering organization seeking to create a culture and sustain an environment that nurtures breakthrough ideas and creative concepts. Donna is also an enthusiastic business coach working with clients transitioning to self-employment. She is an experienced team and meeting facilitator who can help you to achieve outstanding results at team meetings, workshops, and conferences. The company catalog of training courses and workshops includes strategic planning, developing high-performance teams, balancing professional and personal life issues, stress management, diversity alignment, organizing productive workdays, and conflict resolution. Donna is qualified to administer and interpret the Myers-Briggs Type Indicator and also offers the RGB work-style preference inventory.
